Easy Seed Starting For the Home Gardener

Tuesday, February 20 @ 6:00pm

In the dark, short days of winter, it is easy to day-dream about the sunny days of spring and summer when your yard or garden is filled with blooming flowers and fresh produce ripe for the picking. Thankfully, we can bring some of the joy of getting garden plants ready indoors even if the snow is still falling outside in early spring. Join us with Penn State Master gardener, Kristi Wenrich. *Registration is requested.

Kid Librarian Display

Calling all kids 9-17 years of age! We'd love your help designing a library display of your favorite books! The display will be up for a few weeks. Interested? Fill out a form today! We will choose a new librarian every few weeks. See Ms. Wendy for more information.

Beekeeping

Thursday, February 15 @ 6:00pm

Learn all about this fascinating subject whether you're interested in becoming a beekeeper or just want to learn more about these amazing important creatures. Our speaker is Mark Antunes.

*Registration is requested.

Who Can Do Yoga?

EVERYBODY! If you've got a body and you can move some of it, you can do yoga. Everyone can benefit from learning how to relax, being more mindful and feeling more grounded. With our increasingly sedentary lifestyles and rising obesity rates, anything we can do to get people moving is important. Join our yoga instructor, Ongela Djerf, on Thursday, February 1 at 5:30pm. There is a $5 registration and you'll need to bring your own personal mat.

Adult Book Club

Join us for a discussion on the novel A Fall of Marigolds by Susan Meissner. The small group will be meeting on February 15 @ 2:30pm in the library. No registration is necessary, just show up ready for some awesome conversations.
